

WONDERFUL RESULTS ARE BEING ATTAINED BY WEST END M. CO.

The semi-monthly clean-up of the mill of the West End Mining company, covering the first half of February, resulted in 22 bars of bullion having a weight of 29,005 ounces, and a value in round numbers of $46,598.20. The production was in keeping with that of past shipments, although some depreciation resulted from lack of power for a couple of days which was occasioned by the heavy storm that raged over the White mountains.

It is with much satisfaction that those interested in mining in the Tonopah district watch developments that are going forward at the property of the West End Mining company. This company is most aggressive and the weekly output averages around 1700 tons, which is sent to the big milling plant for treatment, and the production remains practically stationary. The official report of operations for the week ending Saturday morning, February 18, is as follows:

West End Shaft.
From the West End shaft work, work has been started in drift 145 ft for an air connection. Drift 144 A made the usual progress with no change. Crosscut 413 A has been started to facilitate mining operations. Raise 530 No. 4 made fair progress without change. Raise 580 No. 6 has been started. Intermediate drift 683 continues in ore of good grade. Drifts 969 and 970 made the usual progress on low-grade quartz.

Ohio Shaft.

From the Ohio shaft, intermediate drift 519 continued on a full face of ore. Drift 536 No. 1 has been started on the hanging wall vein. Raise 543 No. 1 made good progress with no change. Drift 549 continues to advance on ore of fair grade. Drift 642 No. 3 made the usual progress without change. Work has been resumed in drift 848 No. 1 on low-grade ore. Drift 848 No. 2 made good progress on fair ore. Crosscut 842 made good progress in rhyolite. Raise 867 has no change to report. There are no changes to report in Tonopah "76" ground, regular work being performed.

Tonnage and grade of ore were normal with a production of 1700 tons for the week.

WHEN HE CALLS.

Practice in time becomes second nature.

IN A MOTION picture recently produced, the charming young actress impersonating a New York society girl receiving the call of one of her men friends takes the caller's hat and coat from him as he enters the hall. Now as a matter of fact no girl who knew social usage would do that. Of course, if the man were aged or otherwise too feeble to dispose of them himself, she would. Otherwise, if there is no servant at hand to take them from him, the young woman would simply show him where the hatrack was located. A young man caller need not be asked by his hostess to remove his coat. If a maid comes to the door he should remove his coat in the hall after he has taken off his hat and give them to the maid or hang them on the hatrack before going into the reception room or drawing room. If the young woman receives a caller in a sitting room above stairs he should leave his outer things in the downstairs hall before ascending.

The American girl should always extend her hand to the young man caller when he calls. If he has asked to see her. It was an old-time courtesy always to say "Pray be seated," or something of that sort, and the young man did not take a seat until he had been so requested. Now, however, we do not stand on such formality. The young man takes a seat after his hostess has been seated, but he avoids taking the most comfortable chair in the room.

The question is often asked by young women as to whether young men should be given refreshments when they call. If they come in the afternoon about four or five it is customary in large towns to serve tea, which the hostess dispenses from a tea table in the drawing room or living room. Of course, with the majority of young men, an afternoon call is an impossibility and all their calling is done in the evening. Now hospitality does not require any refreshments for the evening call; but, especially if the young man has expressed his intentions of coming a certain night, or if there are

Something to Think About By F. A. WALKER

MEN'S WEDDING RINGS.

THE Brooklyn Eagle, which reports most things accurately and well, published the news that in its city the use of wedding rings for men is gaining rapidly in popularity.

This is interesting and important if it means that men are coming to take the marriage ceremony and its vows more seriously and that the divorce rate is as a consequence to cease in its upward trend.

The wedding ring is a relic of savagery. It is probably a descendant of the metal bracelet and chain by which the earlier tribes of men secured themselves that their spouses would not wander away from the house domicile while the master of the house was away hunting.

Some more engaging wife, having convinced her husband of unquestionable fidelity, was rewarded by having the bracelet replaced by the ring and the chain done away with altogether. The ring by itself showed that she was married. The absence of the chain said, "Here is an exceptionally fine wife." That flattered and pleased both parties.

But if the modern woman is expected to wear a wedding ring and advertise her married position, what good reason is there why the husband should not be marked in an equally prominent manner and his limitations of freedom equally advertised?

An old custom of the marriage ceremony consisted of putting the wedding ring first on the thumb, then on the first finger, then on the second, speaking the names of the Trinity as the ceremony proceeded, and, finally, when it rested on the third finger, it was supposed to signify that next to her duties to God the wife recognized her duties to her husband.

Of course, it ought not to require a ring or any other form of emblem to make a man or a woman hold sacred the vows of the altar. If a thin band of gold or platinum is all that restrains either one of them from wandering, then the divorce court is not very far away.

To most women the wedding ring is a very sacred thing. It is the last thing that goes to the pawnshop when adversity demands its toll. Just how much it means to the men, who in accordance with the new custom will wear it, is a question that only a test will settle.

The question of divorce in this country is fast getting to be of such dimensions as to demand serious corrective attention.

In twenty years the number of divorces granted annually has increased from about 60,000 to 133,000 with a total in the twenty years of nearly two millions.

In Nevada there are almost as many divorces as there are marriages, but, since Nevada has been the resort of many citizens from other states seeking freedom from marital ties, it may be fairer to point to Oregon which has only two and a half times as many marriages as divorces.

In six counties in four states the record shows 50 per cent more divorces than marriages.

The innocent parties to these disagreements are the children and in the past 20 years more than 1,300,000 sons and daughters of disagreeing parents have been involved in the court proceedings which followed the desire for separation.

In many states it has come to be easier to get divorced than it is to get married. Scarcely two states have divorce laws alike, and what is illegal in one state becomes perfectly all right so far as the statutes go the minute the imaginary line between it and another commonwealth is crossed.

Perhaps the custom of wedding rings for men will have a good effect on the bad record recited above.

Perhaps, on the other hand, the men will wear their badges of matrimony in their vest pockets whenever they think a more conspicuous display will interfere with an evening a little dryer than they would have at home.

But whatever means is necessary for the correction of present conditions should be determined and put into force.

Marriage should be made less of a farce and divorce less of a joke than present records show both to be.

The marriage relation is an important part of our civilization. It merits more attention and more perfection than it is at present receiving.

GENERAL WOOD VOICES VIEWS OF GREAT GOOD

(By Associated Press)

MANILA, P. I., Feb. 20.—Governor General Wood has announced his intention to follow in the near future the policy outlined in the report of the Wood-Forbes mission, as the basis of administration of the Philippine government. The chief executive, through circular letters to all department secretaries, states that while certain excellent principles and policies have been followed successfully in the past, there are at the same time evils that have grown up which need to be remedied. In this connection Governor Wood says he intends to prepare a government program that will make possible the realization, for the next four years at least, of the policy which the Wood-Forbes mission's report advocated, and the secretaries of departments and all their subordinates are urged to co-operate in making the necessary changes and adjustments.

Each secretary of department is instructed to submit to the governor general a program of activities of his department in line with the suggestions and recommendations contained in the report of the mission and to this end the chief executive has issued to the secretaries memoranda prepared by members of the mission which suggests some of the subjects which should be considered and a definite method of dealing with the problem.
